It is a new year and if improving your throwing skills or learning new ones is on your resolution list, then this is the class for you. Each class will focus on a particular skill to be addressed by a series of exercises designed for you to hone your abilities. This class will really benefit intermediate potters. But, if you have never thrown, this is the perfect class to start learning. Although this session is not project driven, individual projects will be addressed for potters who desire to work on specific things and many of the pots resulting from the exercises will be made into a finished pieces.
 Don't delay, enlist today!

Drills will include:

- Centering more clay
- Opening effectively
- Pulling walls with even thickness
- Collaring-in
- Trimming
- Last class—finished pots
